

Preparing Soundminer:

Part 1:

- 1) Double Click on the “Sfx-Library” icon.
- 2) Double Click on the “Database” folder.
- 3) Double Click on the “Client Database folder”.
- 4) Copy all the contents of this folder by highlighting all the folders and files and right clicking and selecting copy, or by hitting Apple - C.

Part 2:

- 1) Double Click on the “Macintosh HD” icon.
- 2) Under “Places” find your User icon (house) with your name on it. Click on it.
- 3) Double click on “Library”.
- 4) Double Click on the “Application Support” Folder.
- 5) Double Click on the “Soundminer” Folder.
- 6) Right click and select Paste, or hit Apple V. Say yes to Override Contents.

Now you are ready to launch Soundminer and have access to all the files.

Using Soundminer:

- 1) Search for any sound that you want. (Describe Sound) Then, scroll through and select different sounds by clicking on them and listening.
- 2) Check off Sum to Mono if you would like to have a one-channel audio file that is easier to work with in Final Cut. If you have experience using multiple channels in Final Cut, leave this unchecked and you will export a right and left channel.
- 3) When you find each sound file that you like you can use the hand icon to export it. Click on the hand icon and use it to drag and drop the selected file right onto your desktop. (Collect your files in a folder)
